Abstract

This article is a thematic index of articles in a scientific journal “European Journal of Medicine” that have been published in it over the last 10 years. The materials for this work are the studies that were published in the journal in the period from 2013 to 2023. The research methodology is presented by both general scientific and special research methods. In the article, the authors provide a thematic analysis of the works that were published in the journal “European Journal of Medicine”. In conclusion, the authors note that over the ten-year period of the journal’s existence, 128 articles on various areas of medical science were published in it. Separately, the authors provide data on the 5 most popular areas of published research, as well as on the language ratio of publications.

Keywords: medicine, modern medicine, medical science, medical research, medical journal, research review, intellectual capital, publication activity, work results, thematic index.

1. Introduction

In nowadays the journal “European Journal of Medicine” is an open access medical scientific journal that publishes research in various areas of medical science.

The aim of this work is to develop a thematic index of the journal “European Journal of Medicine” articles that were published between 2013 and 2023.

This article is an attempt by the author to summarize the publication activity of the journal “European Journal of Medicine” and its authors over the last 10 years (2013–2023).

2. Materials and methods

The research methodology is based on general scientific and special research methods. General scientific research methods are represented by: analysis, synthesis, induction, deduction. Special research methods are represented by: content analysis (to analyze the content of studies that were published in the journal), bibliographic method (in terms of selection, classification and ranking of studies that were published in the journal), and narrative method (to form the narrative line of this paper).

The materials for the thematic index were studies that were published in the journal “European Journal of Medicine” in the period from 2013 to 2023.

3. Discussion

The journal was founded in 2013 and is still being published. From 2013 to 2021, the “European Journal of Medicine” was published twice a year. From 2022 to the present, the “European Journal of Medicine” is published once a year (in December) (Figure 1).

The mission of the journal is the formation of information space aimed at enhancing the professional competence of health professionals, as well as in the introduction of innovations and advanced treatment methods in medical practice.

The journal's objective is to familiarize the specialists and all interested readers with the contemporary achievements in the field of medical science. The importance is also given to the process of raising the level of postgraduate education and quality of medical care to the population.

Nowadays review articles that are devoted to various aspects of the analysis of published studies (Amobonye et al., 2024; Mamadaliev, 2023; Mamadaliev, 2023a) or the publication activity of journals are quite common in modern science. This type of scientific work is not only purely review in nature for the formation of certain conclusions, but also helps new (often young) researchers to better navigate the area of scientific interests, increasing their research potential (Shtuts et al., 2023).

Thus, this thematic index is of an overview and at the same time introductory nature; it will also be useful not only for potential authors of the journal and researchers, but also for a wide range of readers who are interested in current research in the field of medicine.

Data on most popular research thematic and languages of publications.

The most popular research thematic published in the journal "European Journal of Medicine" are presented in Table 1.

Table 1. Data on most popular research thematic

| No | Thematics                         | Number of articles |
|----|-----------------------------------|--------------------|
| 1. | Researches on Covid-19            | 5                  |

Thus, having publications in two languages at its disposal, the journal "European Journal of Medicine" solves the important task of expanding the base of potential readers. The English language is focused on presenting research results at the global level, and the Russian language is focused on presenting research results at the level of the post-Soviet space, since the dominance of the Russian language here is still great.
